Turks and Arabs Attack Italian Garrison at Tripoli and Expect to Recapture City in a Few Days

INDIAN DRUMMER ENRAGES THE REBELS

Latter, Heavily Reinforced by Arab Allies, Make Heroic Attempts to Recapture the City—Italian Troops Threatened with Starvation and Disease

Desperate Battle at Tripoli.
Mallin, Nov. 3.—The Italians, isolated desperately yesterday, to hold the city of Tripoli against the overwhelming army of Turks and Arabs, the Italian war fleet under Admiral Arseni, which is anchored off the city of Tripoli, is supporting the defense by hurling shells into the desert, where the Turks are massed south of the city.

The silence of the Italian government relative to the reports from Constantinople and Tripoli, that the Turks are steadily gaining is regarded here as highly significant. It is evident from the tone of the dispatches that the fighting about the city is of a desperate character, the Turks and Arabs showing great and daring courage and are threatened by lack of drinkage. The Italians are cooped up in the city, as the supply comes from outside the city's walls.

The only Italian success so far recorded is the capture of two light field guns from the Turks and Arabs. The searchlights of the Italian warships are kept playing constantly over the desert, east, west and south of the city at night to prevent a surprise attack.

ARMY OF MEN TO WORK ALL WINTER

Grand Trunk Pacific Will Give Employment to from 1500 to 2000 Men on Grade Between Moose Lake and Tete Juan Cache During Cold Season

A whole army of laborers will be concentrated this winter on the twenty mile stretch of G.T.P. grade between the head of Moose lake and Tete Juan Cache, or in other words between mile 27 and mile 47 west of the summit of the Yellowhead Pass. Work has been under way on this section of the line during the past summer but owing to the fact that the heaviest work on the whole National Transcontinental is to be found in that 20 miles there is sufficient blasting and grading yet to be done to keep the sub-contractors at work during the entire winter.

SELF DEFENCE WILL BE PLEA

OF DEFENDANT IN CASE WHEREIN FINLANDER IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

That John Polstrom, the Finlander, now on trial in the supreme court for the murder of the constable and constable Horman Backman, on October 29, in the night of way camp near Hukin, and his drunken friend in self defence, will be the argument presented before the jury this afternoon by H. H. Robertson, counsel for the accused.

During the course of the morning evidence was brought out to show that Backman had brandished an ax in a threatening manner, that he was the most powerful build, and that the accused, before the shooting took place, was in the crowd and it was the intention of the accused to kill Backman. The defence was completed, and the court adjourned until 1:15, when E. H. Goswell, for the crown and H. H. Robertson for the defence, will address the jury and Mr. Justice Simmons will charge them before they retire to consider their verdict.

One of the principal witnesses this morning was Engineer Commings, who lived in a tent not far from the scene of the tragedy, and said that he had made no movement, that the bullet holes in Backman's tent, made by the discharge from his revolver, was made that he had the accused fired with the rifle leveled to his shoulder, the bullet would have hit him, when Backman was sitting on a bench, in the upper part of the body. It was in the upper part of the body that the bullet hit, and it is not, that the dead man did, in fact, relieve the wound.

Witness declared that he had always known Polstrom of an aggressive disposition, good natured in every way and industrious. Backman had always been quiet when sober, on the night of the shooting affair, Polstrom came

POSTPONE COURT JUST TWO TIMES

JUDGE DELAYED BY DURNING OF AUTO, TIME SECOND INSTANCE LATER IS ABSENT.

Fort Saskatchewan, Nov. 3.—Twice have the sittings of the district court been postponed during the present week. Court was to have been held yesterday by his honor Judge Taylor, when the late Mr. Lynche's order, forbidding the town on a charge of receiving stolen goods were to have come up for trial. At the last moment the opening of the court the counsel for the defense was not on hand, and his honor ordered that it be postponed until the trial until this morning.

A mishap on the road prevented Judge Taylor from appearing this morning for a continuance of the trial. Word was received that at an early hour this morning, Judge Taylor's car was en route to the Fort, the tire of the automobile burst, and he was compelled to turn back. Court will be held tomorrow morning.

Last evening the Mechanics Hall annual dance of the Maskeeb Club was held, over sixty couples being present. Lynche's order, forbidding the town on a charge of receiving stolen goods was in charge as follows: Mrs. W. MacAlpine, Miss A. V. Webb, and Miss M. E. Altan.

Commings's test, declare that he was afraid Backman would murder him. When Polstrom left the constable's tent, he had declared his intention of fighting Backman. "I am going to fight Backman to keep him away from the tent," the witness had said, and although witness advised him not to run into any danger by attacking the powerful man, armed with an ax, who had apparently started the quarrel, Polstrom insisted on going.

MANY SMALLPOX CASES IN QUEBEC

AUTHORITIES WILL MAKE A SPECIAL EFFORT TO STAMP OUT EPIDEMIC.

(Western Associated Press.)
Montreal, Nov. 3.—It was stated at the provincial health office today, that as a result with the arrival of cold weather small pox cases were becoming more numerous and that the enforcement of vaccination laws would be strictly carried out. A large number of cases have been reported by municipalities throughout the province, although in the cities, cases are scarce. The provincial authorities will endeavor to stamp out the disease before it becomes epidemic.

The health secretary of the provincial board, added today, that Mayor of Quebec, who had been quoted as saying that he did not believe small pox contagious, he was a dangerous man, not a public nuisance, and that he was trying the face of science and experience.

"BANISH THE BAD" ROWELL'S SLOGAN

PLATFORM OF ONTARIO LIBERALS WILL NOT BE ANNOUNCED FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

(Special to The Capital.)
Toronto, Nov. 3.—Until N. W. Rowell, K.C., can get through with his district duties, the liberal platform for Ontario will not be announced. The indication which he wants to give of the Ontario reform association and they will not have any statement till the next leader is free to take hold. In the meantime, the liberal slogan will be "Banish the bad," which is the slogan in north Ontario, that proposes to tax improvements rather than land, and is held under "veterans' scrip," which is being held undeveloped, and the growth of large districts is thus retarded by the inactivity of the absentee owners. West Middlesex is declared by Rowell's friends to be the constituency in which he should stand.

NINE ANTELOPE ARRIVE IN CITY

ARE BEING TAKEN TO THE PARK AT WAINWRIGHT—CAUGHT NEAR BROOKS.

Nine antelope for the Dominion government work at Wainwright will arrive in Edmonton this afternoon over the C.P.R. from Brooks, Alberta. They have been captured during the past summer by Charles Blister on the north side of the southern town. Mr. Blister entered into a contract with the Dominion government to supply twelve antelope to be added to the number already in captivity in the Wainwright park. The antelope were captured in the park, and are being placed in crates and are being shipped in the express car of the passenger train arriving in Strathcona at 4:30 o'clock.

They were brought to Edmonton from Strathcona by the Dominion government company and transferred to the C.P.R. for shipment to their destination.

Already there are fifteen antelope in the park, they have been captured at various times and placed in captivity there with the buffalo and elk. They are being well and multiplying.

EARL GREY HAS FEARS DISPELLED

IS NOW CONFIDENT THAT OVERSEAS DOMINION WILL EVER BE MAIN PART OF EMPIRE.

(Canadian Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 3.—Earl Grey was entertained to a banquet last night at New House, which was presided over by the Duke of Northumberland. In the course of his speech Earl Grey said the people of Canada were busy laying on firm lines the foundation of a great empire, and their work was only just beginning. "Now gentlemen," said Earl Grey, "may I make a confession. A few years ago I was haunted by a fear that the future of the empire was in danger, principally because of the lack of proper self-respecting imperial spirit in the self-governing nations. I rejoice to say, however, that the fact is now largely dispelled by the fact and abundant stream of evidence that comes from Canada, New Zealand and Australia, which goes to show that the self-governing dominions believe exists that there is a greater and better future for them all inside rather than outside the British Empire."

ARE ROUNDING UP MONTANA BUFFALO

COMMISSIONER OF PARKS HAS NOT HEARD HOW WORK IS PROGRESSING.

No word has been received recently by Howard Hughes, commissioner of the Dominion government, from the men who are engaged in the first round up of buffalo on the Pablo ranch in Montana. There are between fifty and sixty buffalo still at large on the plains and if they are not rounded up and shipped this month, it will be too late to move them this season. Mr. Hughes expects to hear within a few days as to what progress is being made and will the roundup.

In the park at Wainwright, the winter quarters of the buffalo have been opened up and many of the animals are finding their way into the wilderness. An area of five thousand acres in extent has been kept closed to the animals throughout the summer and the grass has been allowed to grow tall and rank for wintering. It was opened on November 1, and gradually all the animals will be driven inside the enclosure, where they will have plenty of feed and can be properly cared for during the cold months.

When all the animals have been enclosed in the 5,000 acre pasture, a count will be made to ascertain the number and sex of the increases will amount to 200. Only three buffalo have been lost since the first of the year. These were old cows which died during the cold months last winter.

AMERICANS WOULD ANNEX DOMINION

SAYS CHAMP CLARK, SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE, IN NEBRASKA SPEECH

(Western Associated Press.)
Fremont, Neb., Nov. 3.—Nine-tenths of the people favor the annexation of Canada, declared Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives here today, "and I don't care who hears me say it."

Beginning with a speech here today, Mr. Clark was scheduled to make addresses in twenty-one towns in the third Nebraska district in the interest of Dan V. Stevens, democratic candidate for congress to succeed the late representative James P. Leary.

The speaker's remarks concerning annexation of Canada caused much comment among his hearers. "I am an unwilling," he said, "to make this proposition. You see me run for president on a platform calling for annexation of Canada in so far as this country can accomplish that, and I am the president run against me opposing annexation, and I would carry every state in the nation."

NOTE ON CHURCH UNION THIS WEEK

METHODIST CHURCH OFFICIALS ARE SENDING OUT BALLOTS—RESULT SOON BE KNOWN

(Western Associated Press.)
Toronto, Nov. 3.—The heads of the Methodist church are sending out to members of the church, for their vote on whether church union will take place with the Presbyterian and Congregationalists.

This is but one question on the ballot. "Are you in favor of organizing a union with other churches?"

Four kinds of ballots are being issued one for church members over sixteen, one for members under sixteen, one for adherents and one for officials. The vote will commence this week and will continue until spring, when the result will be compiled.

ENGINEER DESERVES CARNegie MEDAL

Shoves His Engine in Path of Runaway Flat Cars and Prevents Wreck of Passenger Train

(Western Associated Press.)
Toronto, Nov. 3.—To prevent a string of stolen land runaway flat cars on a down grade from dashing into an approaching passenger train, Grand Trunk Engineer Fred Towler deliberately ran his yard engine into the cars stopping their progress. Low, the stock cars, and had his left foot badly crushed. His fireman and a brakeman jumped and flung the passenger train before it reached the wreck.

ANOTHER WAREHOUSE FOR LETHBRIDGE CITY

International Harvester Company Will Erect Four-story Building

(Special to The Capital.)
Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 3.—Just to show the extent of the faith of the Grand Trunk Harvester Co. in the future of Lethbridge, their local manager, Chas. McClellan, this evening signed the necessary papers to make the company owners of eleven lots in North Lethbridge, facing the bank, on which they will build a four-story warehouse next spring. The building will occupy an area of 125 feet by 125 feet.

INDICATIONS NOW POINT TO RENEWAL OF DEADLY COMBAT IN CELESTIAL EMPIRE—ADMITTED THAT SHANGHAI HAS FALLEN INTO HANDS OF REVOLUTIONISTS—HANKOW BURNING

(Western Associated Press.)

Shanghai, China, Nov. 3.—The arsenal and native city of Shanghai was taken over by revolutionists late evening. No resistance was offered by the authorities or such of the public as remains loyal. It is reported that Wu Suag at the mouth of the Wu Suag river and ten miles north of Shanghai and the up-river forts will fall tonight. It is confidently believed Nanking and Chung King will be captured by the rebels tomorrow. Some of the foreign warships landed marines in this city before the rebels took possession. Foreign volunteers were called out and have taken every precaution to protect the consulates. It is reported that the rebels at Yung King have seized the British tugboat Sampson. It became evident early in the afternoon that the revolutionists proposed to assume control of affairs here within a short time. Though it was not thought they would occupy the arsenal before night. As the day progressed the revolutionary flag was hoisted over all buildings in the vicinity of the arsenal and thousands wearing on their arms the white band emblems of the consulates gathered in the streets. Police and native soldiers made no attempt to interfere, but, on the contrary, fraternized with the insurgents.

The fact, realizing the inevitable, caused notice to be posted, stating that the native city might be taken over by the revolutionists tonight and expressing the hope that the public would not be thrown into confusion.

Tsai Seeks Haven of Refuge

At 5:30 o'clock, anti-foreign and anti-foreign communication was cut off, the Shanghai arsenal was cut off, the rebel troops grew to greater proportions. The revolutionaries here have telegraphed General Li Yuan, head of the rebel movement, advising him to cease hostilities pending developments at Peking. Their message was being forwarded to General Li Yuan by special dispatch boat.

At this point the Tsai fled and the rebels followed before him. Kiao has been doing indignantly at the news of the rebellion. The late advice from Hankow give assurance that foreign consessions are safe and have not been seriously disturbed by the rising in the native city. The provinces of Yung Nan on the southwestern border of China are now in a state of dependence according to reports received here today.

Yung Nan fronts on Tibet and Burma, is known as the Switzerland of China, has an area of nearly 150,000 square miles, a population estimated at 12,000,000. It contains China's richest mineral deposits and boundless stores of sulphur, coal, agriculture and stock raising are extensively carried on.

A Big Demonstration.
General Tchang, who until a few days ago was the commander of the Chinese army, is now in Peking.

London, Ont., Nov. 3.—Fire has destroyed five business blocks and seriously damaged four others today, practically wiping out the west end of Dundas street, the principal business thoroughfare of the city. The damage is of approximately a million dollars. The biggest business houses of the city, including the famous "Big Five," have been almost entirely wiped out. The business houses completely destroyed were: Charles Hargreaves & Co., a large hardware store, and ladies and gents furnishings with stock approximately worth $100,000; J. Young's, a large hardware store, with stock approximately worth $150,000; Mar's clothing store; Hargreaves & Co., a large hardware store, and ladies and gents furnishings with stock approximately worth $100,000; and J. PRESS AGENTS SAY

LYCEUM THEATRE

It is almost incredible the popularity which Bernard's Musical Merrymen have gained in such short time at the Lyceum Theatre. Last evening the Theatre almost reached capacity, notwithstanding the other attractions at the Empire and the Bank, and no performance could have better pleased if hearty laughter and applause is any criterion. Harry Bernard pleases immensely as an Irishman with a big fortune made in the Klondike, and he was forced to respond to several notices by his magnificent rendition of "The Evening of the Green." The beautiful interpretation of this song was much appreciated by the big audience. Another mirth provoking character is "Sally," the obliging servant as enacted by pretty Miss Jessie Gerard who to accommodate various members of the household allows herself to be passed off as being married, and the general mix up that this makes together with the funny situations that follow keep the audience in fits of laughter.

Mr. Bernard wishes to announce that all the shows put on by his company, are without exception clean, healthy and laugh producers, and unlike that in the least vulgar is ever seen or heard on his stage, he makes a specialty of catering to ladies and children, in addition to the usual shows there will be an added attraction tonight (Friday). A Chorus Girls' Contest in which every girl will do a valse, etc. There will be no raise in prices.

ORCHESTRA TONIGHT.
The Wood Orchestra, which will be heard at McTavish Methodist church this evening, November 3, consists of three sections. These sections are each graduates in their respective lines. Miss Margaret being a splendid pianist, Miss Brewster, being an exceptional violinist and Miss Lois playing "tells with remarkable ability. Miss Lois also has a very sweet contralto voice, and the trio work of the composition is exceptionally fine. There is no question but what this company is thoroughly capable of giving a pleasing program full of good things from start to finish and yet there was one flaw in the makeup. To give a program as good as it should be given would very probably get tiresome with so much string work. To give a program that would not be tiresome, would be too short. Accordingly, Miss Sara A. Maxwell was engaged as a reader for the purpose of lengthening the program to what it should be without tiring the audience.

Miss Maxwell is a graduate of Chicago Musical College. She coached in der Elias Day and is a little bundle of nervous energy, about five feet in height. She does "kid stuff" to perfection and will delight everyone with her smart, dainty comedy and her charming ways.

"EARL OF PAWTUCKET" VOTED A REAL SHOW

"The best show ever had in Edmonton," was the verdict of just about everybody who could buy, but to select their way to hear Lawrence D'Orray in the "Earl of Pawtucket" at the Empire Theatre last night. To attempt to describe the laughable mannerisms with which Mr. D'Orray really makes the show would be impossible, and besides the machines in his office being American made have not got any of that kind of type. In his capacity as a private citizen, Mr. D'Orray out-Englishes the English and on the stage in a play built specially to suit his particular talents he is a source of pleasant amusement from the time he walks on the stage until the final curtain is rung down.

The play itself is rather conventional in type depicting as it does the misadventures of a man who has assumed another's name and who was unfortunate in his choice so much so in fact that he is picked or rather had thrust upon him the name of the former husband of the maiden whom he is pursuing with matrimonial intentions. Various mules, cats and fathers, tend to complicate the muddle until at the end of the second act the whole thing is a "bally mess." The third act rather weakens the play as the straight-ling out of so many complications in one short act was too much of a strain and some changes were bound to result.

Among the players, Miss Katherine Gannet as "Harriet Portidge" was the only one who approached the star with any great candid power. She, however, is a consummate actress and proved an admirable foil for the Earl's amorous sallies and English wit. Ernest Ellis as Wilkins is also deserving of favorable mention and Leonard Lee as Arthur Weatherhouse played a good part. The remainder of the company were entirely at home in their respective roles and the whole play was as smooth as oil. The scenery and costumes were of the highest possible quality and were a great relief from the customary shifts generally used in this country.

The Earl of Pawtucket will run for the balance of the week with a popular priced matinee on Saturday afternoon.

TARANTULA FOUND IN SOME BANANAS

GIANT SPIDER CAPTURED IN BON TON FRUIT STORE—IS NOW ON EXHIBITION.

While selecting bananas from a cluster suspended in the window of the Bon Ton fruit store yesterday afternoon, a young lady employed in the store was transfixed by the discovery of a tarantula, escaped, from the strips of raff. She was only transfixed for a moment, however, being a hurried retreat she reported the presence of the intruder to the management, and has since conceived a decided objection to the handling of newly imported bananas.

The capture of the monster spider formed a somewhat exciting diversion for the manager for the next ten minutes. Ways and means of coaxing the spider from his domestic nest were devised, and eventually the tarantula was captured, placed in a cardboard box, which was then bound with twine, to make escape impossible, was placed in the rear of the store. This morning the tarantula was transferred to a large glass sash, where he is now on exhibition in the store window.

The name tarantula was derived from the famous species of wolf-spiders the bite of which is generally supposed to be fatal to the human race, and is thus used to denote serious symptoms. As a matter of fact the bite of this spider is not dangerous. The name tarantula is generally applied in the United States and elsewhere to certain of the large bird-spiders occurring in the southwestern United States, Central America and South America, which possess large, bald, polished fangs which move vertically and are thus used to pierce their prey. The feed upon insects and all sorts of small animals.

"Anane" is the name of the tarantula which is a large species of this group which has the most northern distribution of any of the so-called American tarantulas. It has a bite which is quite painful but not dangerous, and never fatal, so far as the accurate records of the tarantula creatures are concerned, usually biting during the day in long silken tubes in cracks in the grounds or under the eaves of roofs or similar places.

Some of the Central American species are occasionally brought to the United States and on board vessels coming from the West Indies are found in the Bon Ton store is probably of the Cuban species. Its body is about one-inch in length.

PRODUCTS OF LAND NOW ON EXHIBITION

Big Exposition, Purpose of Which Is to Stimulate an Interest in Farming, Opens in the American Metropolis—Thousands of Exhibits

New York, Nov. 2.—The fair diary from her lofty position on the pinnacle of the Madison Square Garden tower never looked down upon a more interesting or more important exhibition than that which opened in the big amphitheatre today under the official title of the American Land and Irrigation exposition. The exhibition will continue ten days. Its object is two-fold—to stimulate interest in farming and improvement of the land and to show the great rewards which can be gained from scientific agriculture.

The show is the outcome of combined efforts by the United States government, the railroads of the country and various diastical and agricultural interests. One of the reasons for holding the exposition in New York city is to give the 7,000,000 people living in this vicinity an idea of the vast resources of the country and of the tremendous practical advances which have been made in recent years.

The exhibits include specimens of soil and products, maps and relief models of areas which it is desired to exhibit. Illustrations of agriculture in all its branches, including dry farming and irrigation methods. To further demonstrate the possibilities of American soils the management has provided moving pictures and illustrated lectures. The display is not confined to any one section of the country. While the south, the middle states and the west are most largely represented there are also exhibits to show that New England and the east in general are not out of the running in the agricultural race. Even Canada is represented by an attractive display of agricultural products from the prairie provinces and British Columbia.

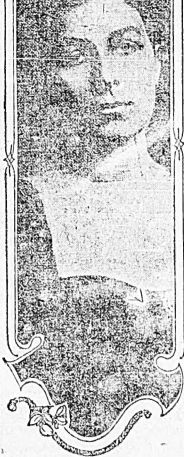

Not the least interesting feature of the exposition is the number of valuable prizes offered. A competing map will be the stinging rivalry of the visitors by popular subscription of a farm, orchard, irrigated land or grain land in various parts of the United States. Among the prizes alternate are 100 acres of grain land in Montana donated by President Elliott of the Northern Pacific railway; ten acres of irrigated land near Roswell, New Mexico, given by the Western Irrigated Land and Orchard company of New Mexico; and five-acre peach orchard near Tallahassee, Fla., donated by the Florida Peach Plantation company.

The prizes to be distributed among the exhibitors include a $1,500 cup for the best barley grown in the United States; a $1,000 cup offered by James H. Hill for the best hundred pounds of wheat produced in the United States; one thousand dollars in seed to be given by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, of the Canadian Pacific railway, for the best hundred pounds of wheat raised in any north or central America; and Cows valued at $1,000 each will be given for the best yield of cotton, hops, oats, potatoes and sugar beets.

MASSACRE AT HANKOW— HUNDREDS MURDERED— ENRAGES THE REBELS

Two days ago was commander of the Imperial forces at Hankow, returned here today. There was a great crowd at the station at the time of his arrival, but no demonstration took place. It is understood the National Assembly is showing determined opposition to the foreign loan for which arrangements already have been made, as so many millions are hoarded in the forbidden city.

Letters dated October 29 and 30 from the Associated Press correspondents with the Imperial army at Hankow say that in the struggle for the possession of the city, there was hand to hand fighting in the streets, the quarters being too close for shooting. The rebels, mostly raw recruits, had been fighting in the streets, the quarters being too close for shooting. Italians Retire.
Tripoli, Nov. 3.—The 82nd Italian infantry was forced to fall back from its position by a force of Turks, which appeared before the line of defense last night. Failure of shells to explode made ineffective the Turkish guns brought south of Elmsut today. The Italian artillery advanced the guns and forced the Turks to retire.

As soon as steel has been laid to mile 27 a large number of teams will be employed moving supplies from that point to the Gache where they will be stored until with the opening of navigation in the spring, it becomes possible to ship them down the Fraser River to where they will be required for next summer's work on the last 110 mile stretch of grade, completion of which will connect the two ends of the railway in British Columbia.

CHIEF SHOOTS IN A RECORD CLASS

HEAD OF POLICE FORCE IN SCOTLAND GRABS 140 MALLARDS IN DAYS' SHOOTING

Strathcona, Nov. 3.—When duck season opens for the first time in the warm waters of a southern climate there will be one name mentioned in their reminiscences that will strike awe into the breasts of the feathered multitude. The survivors of the Billern Lake fiasco of last week may justly speak with bated breath of the deadly combination encountered in Chief Robinson and a six-shot pump gun at a street-gut fight between two attractive bodies of water. Here Chief Robinson, with two companions, Messrs. Williams and Donaldson, spent two or three days last week and of the ducks that few unsuspecting over the spot 140 mallards fell before the deadly fusillade led by the Chief's gun. And this fine total did not suffice to satisfy the trio of sportsmen who based in addition four wild geese and a round dozen of grouse and partridges. While in the Billern Lake district Chief Robinson and his companions were entertained at the houses of Messrs. H. Oschner and J. Person, and of the hospitality received the sportsmen speak in the highest terms.

Mayor of America's Model Town on Trial

Claimed That Head of Municipality Used His Position for Purpose of Grafting at the Expense of the City—Was Poor But Is Now Multi-Millionaire

Calgary, Ind., Nov. 3.—To the court records of Porter county there are about to be added several interesting chapters that might be appropriately entitled, "The Troubles of a Model Town." The cause of Mayor Thomas E. Knotts and several other officials of the city of Gary, against whom serious charges are pending, are the docket for next Saturday, and it is expected the trials will begin here early in the coming week. If that day has been printed concerning the alleged corruption in the "model city," planned and dominated by the steel trust, is true, then revelations may be expected at the trials that will regulate the political grafters in some of the big cities to the shaft reserved for "pick-ers."

The city of Gary has yet to celebrate its tenth birthday, but despite its youth, it is a city in all that the word implies. When scarcely a decade ago there was nothing but the long sweep of sand dunes on the shores of Lake Michigan, there are now located, the greatest steel mills in the country, together with numerous other industries that have been attracted by the excellent transportation facilities and other advantages offered by the new city. But with the virtues also came the vices of a metropolis. For several years the newspapers have told of the moral and political corruption alleged to flourish in the "model town." Many of the vicious element driven out of Chicago, from time to time are said to have found in Gary, a most desirable haven. Gambling houses are said to have been conducted almost openly. Frequent arrests by the Federal authorities have given rise to the belief that the little city also has been a center for the "white slave" traffic. Efforts of the better element to "clean up" the place long proved unavailing. The authorities were unmovable. At the head of affairs was Thomas E. Knotts, who held the majority. It is alleged, by virtue of an election in which thuggery held the winning hand. Knotts came to Gary a few years ago from Hammond, where he conducted a newspaper and was prominent in town politics. So far as is known he was not overburdened with worldly goods when he stepped off the train in the "model town." Today he is reputed to be in the near-millionaire class, with heavy interests in realty, manufacturing, public utility and banking corporations in and around Gary.

Failing to make any progress in the crusade against vice, the reformers in the town turned their attention to the political corruption alleged to exist. Their progress along this line promised better results, from the moment they hit the trail. The climax came early in September, when Mayor Knotts and several members of the city council were placed under arrest charged with bribery.

It is charged by detectives, who have carefully worked up the case, that the mayor and those arrested with him solicited a bribe of $8,000 from representatives of a utilities company to put through a leading franchise which would have entailed an expenditure of many thousands of dollars by the city and public.

Dictagraph records will play a stellar part in the coming trials. It is said that dictagraphs were connected up in the hotel room occupied by T. E. Dean, the applicant for the franchise, and also that one had been installed even in the mayor's private office.

One extra from the dictagraph records made public purports to be a conversation between Dean and Alderman E. L. Bowser. The conversation is thus recorded:

Dean—What did the mayor say about my matter, Mr. Bowser?

Bowser—I started to tell you that I told him there was $8,000 in it for us. Right here is where he got interested. He wanted to know what I knew about you personally and if you were all right, and if you had the money to go ahead and build the plant. I told him you were, and asked him how he stood on the A. F. franchise. Tom said, "A. F., he don't get me any money. There is nothing in this matter for me if Dean and his franchise are all right, we've put it across."

Mayor Knotts was arrested in the city hall just after Dean came from the executive's office, with the leading franchise in his pocket. Dean alleges he paid the mayor $5,000. Before entering the mayor's office, Dean had himself searched by four persons as a proof that he had the $5,000 in his pocket when he entered Mayor Knotts' room. When he left the room he had himself searched again. He told the deputies to serve the warrant, and they would find the money in an envelope in a pigeon hole in Mayor Knotts' desk.

"NEW ORLEANS" ON THE OHIO

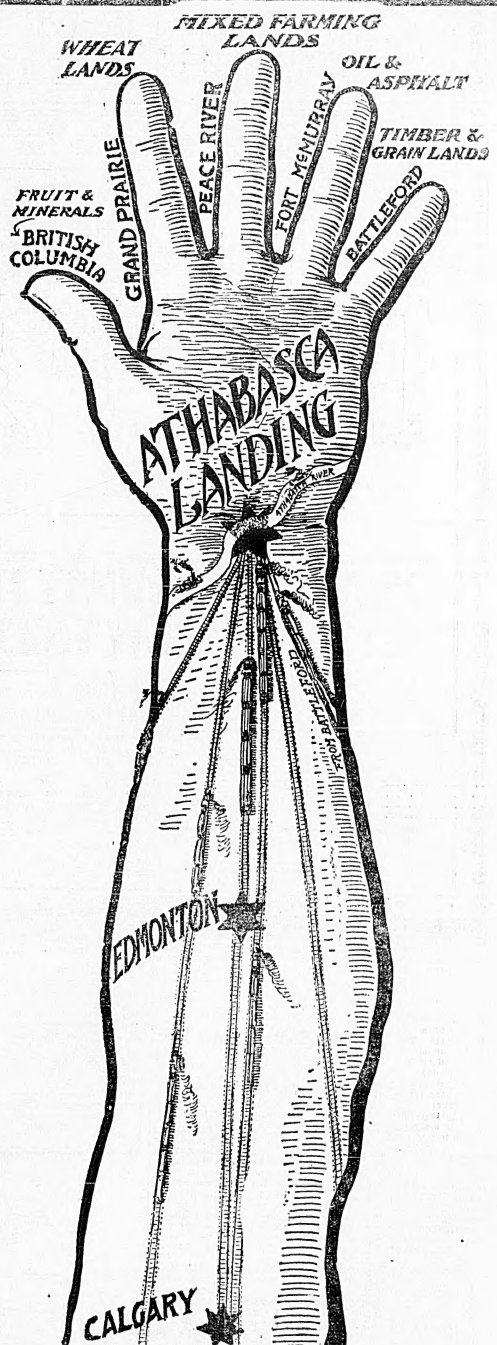

STEAMER MAKES TRIP TO MARK CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF TAKING WATER

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—The people all along the Ohio river are on the lookout these days to see a little steamer puffing and wheezing its way down the stream. The little craft, which looks strange to eyes accustomed to the large and imposing steamboats of the present day, is the replica of the steamer "New Orleans," the first steamer to make the trip down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The original trip was made just one hundred years ago and marked the beginning of steam navigation on America's inland rivers. To commemorate the centenary of that event the replica was built, and yesterday it started from Pittsburgh on a trip to New Orleans. The boat is due to reach Cincinnati Sunday and on the following day there will be a celebration in her honor. Similar celebrations will be held at points along the entire route under the auspices of the various state and local historical societies.

The original "New Orleans," called at first the "Enterprise," was built at Marietta and sent to Pittsburgh to be provided with engine and stern-wheel of Robert Fulton's design. The little boat of some 350 tons cost $10,000 to build, and left Pittsburgh on its first trip October 11, 1811. Thereafter for three years it made regular trips between New Orleans and Natchez, until it was wrecked.

Bad luck has struck the Eskimo camp with a vengeance. Deacon is now in the very tenuous position that he has to take his team to Calgary tonight to play the Tigers tomorrow without one single spare man, in fact last night it was doubtful whether he would have a complete fourteen. Injuries are the cause of the trouble. In the place of the injured is a man, starting, not having recovered from the injuries sustained in the game with the Rough Riders last Saturday. His loss will be felt probably more than any individual member of the team. Kicking plays such a large part in the game and Hardisty's experience in this line makes his loss a double one. Then Mac Dawson is out with a damaged ankle. Ford, who demonstrated himself as a good line "outlet" last Saturday, has been under the doctor's hand all week with inflammation of the lungs and he will not make the trip. At the practices this week Lewis was tried out at quarter, but was not so efficient as to warrant his displacement from the vice position to quarter back and Conway is now the one best bet in this position. Deacon is worried considerably over the full back position. Had Ford been able to play he would have gone into the centre half position leaving Tommy Dykes out to go full back.

Coombs discovered a day or two ago that he has a cracked rib, but he will play nevertheless. His rib has been cracked for a week or two, but he did not know it is a most painful one whether or not the knickerbocker will get his nerve on Saturday. Deacon will line his men up tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for the final practice and each and every man is expected to be on the job. Despite these knockbacks Deacon still believes he can go into the game with the Calgary Tigers step pretty lively and if he does not beat the Alberta championship back to Edmonton on Saturday night it will not be for lack of trying.

Trouble has arisen over the selection of officials for the big game. The Tigers want Bill Ritchie, and Deacon won't stand for him at any price. He suggested Stanford, but the Tigers object. No other Pearson or Cornwell can be present, so they cannot be considered. President Belanger went to the coast a few days ago and on his way through Calgary stated that he would not be able to officiate himself, and stated further that if any dispute arose over the selection of officials, the final decision must be left in the hands of Vice-President Pearson, so it is now up to Mr. Pearson to do his best and select impartial officials above criticism by either side. This netty bickering is not conducive to the welfare of the game and is not in keeping with the dignity of such a body as the Alberta Rugby Union represents. Continuing on the possibilities of Saturday's game the Calgary Alberta has the following to say:

Next Saturday's game between the Tigers and the Eskimos is the common subject of conversation in wherever rugby fans meet. The Tigers have held the championship for the past two years, and look good for the same honor again this year. Their form displayed on Transvaal was enough to give confidence to their supporters. Every member of the team played a splendid game. They had the best team work of the season, and in every feature but the tackling gave an exhibition which would have done any team in Canada credit.

If the Tigers win next Saturday it will give Calgary a lot of prominence in rugby. The fact of their playing for the championship of Western Canada will bring a lot to this city. And then there is another point. The big Four is affiliated with the Canadian Rugby Football Union, and must be considered before the championship of Canada is decided. The Eastern rugby teams have not considered us in the past, but now before any amateur team can claim itself "champion of Canada" it will be forced to play off with the champions of the Alberta Big Four or have no right to the title.

A large crowd of Edmonton rooters are expected to make the trip tonight to see tomorrow's game. A conservative estimate is that 500 at least will go along. The C. P. R. are running a special excursion, the train leaving at 1 a.m. The fare for the round trip is $14.50.

Capital Bowlers Are Not Capital Bowlers

WENT DOWN TO DEFEAT YESTERDAY 11, BEST TWO OUT OF THREE GAMES

Our local bowlers were defeated last night on the Olympic alley by a team representing our Edmonton contemporary by a score of two games to one. There was no fluke about the victory and our opponents are to be congratulated on the excellent standard of bowling they maintained throughout the series. Especial credit is due to Wilson and Knott. The latter put up the excellent score of 214 whilst Wilson in the final game bagged 201. Our own artists were truly disappointing. For many moons have they kidded themselves as first class alley artists and at the practices they have put on this week, their scores have justified the attitude, but they fell down at the crucial moment last night. H. J. Roche was the last man with 161 in the first game which was equalled by Captain

CALGARY MAN THINKS IT WOULD MAKE MANY FOOTBALL FANS

"Suffragette Night" At Longacre Ringside

WOMEN DID NOT SEEM A TALL UN-EASY OVER BLOODY FEATURES OF "PUGS"

New York, Nov. 3.—The Longacre Athletic Club gave a boxing exhibition last night, the chief feature of which did not centre on the contests between the pugilists so much as in the presence of a large number of women. It was "suffragette night" at the club, and there were fully as many women as men present. The women applauded efforts of the pugilists as vigorously as the men and did not seem at all uneasy over bloody noses and solar plexus "wallops" that occasionally landed a boxer on the floor with a resounding thud.

Mrs. Gus Rubin, wife of the prize fighter, was mistress of ceremonies. It had been announced that no suffragettes would be admitted unless accompanied by an escort, but several of the more militant ones came in groups and vented loud thunders by storm. The women were given the best seats about the ringside. One of the suffragettes made a speech from the ring between the bouts.

The "Old Boss" suggestion is certainly a good one at that. It is safe to say that not half of the spectators at last Monday's game could have told the score if they had not been informed by someone else.

MONTREAL HERALD RACE.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—The National Athletic club, the big French-Canadian organization, produced the winner of today's big road race, the annual Thanksgiving Day round the mountain event of the Montreal Herald. Faver, who ran third in the Boston marathon last spring, was the man to carry off the honors today, his time for the distance of a mile over nine miles being 57 min. 2 2-5 secs. There were over a hundred entries.

Proposed Race Between E. Durnan and Arnst Is Creating Much Talk

American Authority of Opinion That Contest Will Excite Renewed Interest in Rowing—Some History

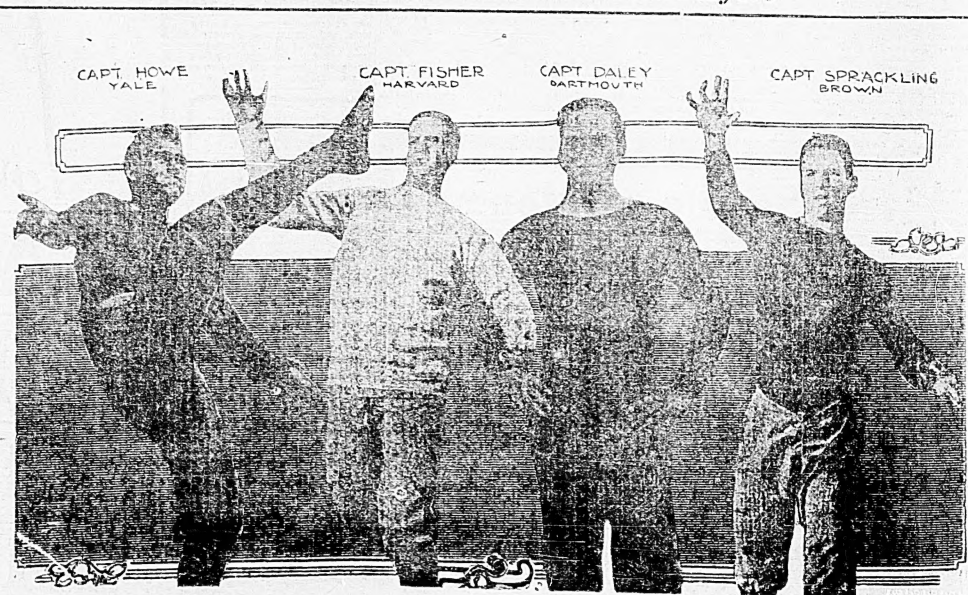

Much interest is being taken in the proposed match between Arnst and Durnan, on the other side, much more in fact than right here, the home of the champion single sculler of America. A rowing authority in New York writes:

"Professional sculling, which since the days of 'Not' Haulin, Courtney, Ross, Wray, Lee, Plaisted and other such celebrities, has been literally at a standstill, may be revived in Canada and the United States, it is thought if the proposed match for the single sculling championship of the world between Richard Arnst, the title holder, and 'Edgie' Durnan, of Canada can be arranged. Negotiations are now being made to row. Should the arrangements under which the champion is willing to row. Should the arrangements be completed the race will be rowed in Canada.

"Durnan is undoubtedly the fastest professional sculler on this side of the Atlantic. Should he row Arnst it will make his second effort to capture the professional single sculler championship of the world. On March 7, 1907 Durnan was defeated by the then champion, G. Towns, in a three-mile race on the Nepean River, in New South Wales. The time for the race, which was rowed with a turn at the

Some Famous American Football Players

These football luminaries are not hampered in their play by the responsibilities of the captaincy of their teams. Arthur Howe is one of the best quarterbacks in Yale history. Ed Sprackling is the peer of all quarterbacks and has done more than any other player to put Brown University on the map. Bob Fisher is the greatest guard that ever played on Harvard and is a sure pick for the all-American, even as he was last year. Ed Daley, of Dartmouth, is one of the most brilliant end-runners of several seasons.

$10,000 BET POSTED THAT ZBYSCO CAN THROW GOTCH

Calgary, Nov. 3.—Posted by Jack Herman, manager for Stanislaus Zbyzsko, the Polish wrestler, who is regarded as the only man looming up on the horizon for championship honors, $10,000 in cash is in the hands of New York sporting writers as a forfeit for a match with Frank Gotch, the champion of the world, who appears in Calgary on Wednesday, Nov. 8, to wrestle with Mahmoud the Turk, and other men who are travelling with him.

At the present time, Gotch is on the way to Calgary, stopping and giving exhibitions at several places on route and will be in the city on Wednesday, Nov. 8, to wrestle with Mahmoud the Turk, and other men who are travelling with him.

Ever since the Humboldt giant defeated the Hackschmidt, the Polish champion has been itching to try conclusions with him, and as a result Zbyzsko and his manager arrived in New York from Europe on Saturday and, according to despatches received here today, immediately posted the $10,000 bet with the world's champion. That Gotch will take the title is undoubted, but he will first have to contend with the exhibition tour of the Canadian northwest planned by him, which brings him to Calgary one week from Wednesday.

Gotch is to appear in Sturman's rink here, and in addition to giving an exhibition with Mahmoud and other wrestlers who are travelling with him, is ready to meet any of the local wrestlers who care to meet him, and has offered a $500 purse for any man that comes to step into the ring with him for a friendly bout.

The champion was a close personal friend of the late William Grant, sporting editor of the News Telegram, and will give two per cent. of the gate receipts here as a benefit for Mr. Grant's widow. Already there is a great demand for seats, and Lloyd Turner, manager of the rink, states that Gotch might be one of the biggest events as far as a crowd is concerned, in the history of the velodrome.

A DEAD HEAT

Racegoats at Longchamps, Paris See Interesting Race

Paris, Oct. 31.—Racegoats at Longchamps witnessed the rather unusual spectacle of a dead heat between two champions, W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Maurice II, with O'Neill up, and Peluance, with Garner up, passing the post together in the Prix Forcé, worth $5,000.

The other starters in this race for two-year-olds never had a look-in, but the event on the program was interesting. Despite the threatening clouds and a blustering gale, there was a fairly big gathering. Among the American spectators were Messrs. Vanderbilt, Blythe, Thorne, Cary, Riggs and Goelet, and Miss Spofford.

PROPOSER RACE BETWEEN E. DURMAN AND ARNST IS CREATING MUCH TALK

Matty Good Reporter

BIG SIX PRAISED FOR HIS BASEBALL STORIES

Out of the defeat of the Giants for the world's championship (Crispy) has thrown energies with new honors and is welcomed into the ranks of journalists.

"Matty's" pen pictures of the series, sent to newspapers throughout the country, bring forth the following editorial in the St. Louis Republic, under the caption, "Big Six."

"The Republic's esteemed correspondent, Mr. Christopher Matthews, otherwise known as 'Matty' and 'Big Six,' may be going far away from here as a baseball pitcher, but he is coming back emphatically as a descriptive and analytical writer."

"Temperament plays an important part in journalism as well as in athletics. 'Big Six' has had elms as a pitcher. He now displays temperament as a reporter. We have examined his contributions to the Republic very critically and we find that in victory or in defeat his work shows the same high and inspiring method."

"In baseball as in other active pursuits a man does not remain long at his best. The Philadelphia Baseball club has pretty thoroughly exploded the Matthews legend. It is now an ancient history. Those who but yesterday believed him almost invulnerable are today the first to enroll him among the has-beens."

"We therefore congratulate him on the new distinction which he has gained as a reporter. Some reporters go to sea also, but if Matthews can continue to 'put over' newspaper stories with accuracy he will remain for a long time to come one of our most celebrated and honored fellow citizens."

"Arnst has been the champion since 1908, when he defeated W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. in a ten-mile race on the Wausau River in the first time of 19 minutes and 52 seconds. He defeated W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. on June 22, 1909. A year later he took W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. into camp, and last year defeated E. Durman."

"It is likely that Arnst may row in America if he defeats Durman. There are several professional clubs, and about Boston who would like to meet him. Boston rowing enthusiasts could easily be depended on to furnish a purse if he is believed."

Halifax Herald Race. Halifax, N.S., Nov. 3.—The Halifax Herald's ten mile race was won today by Michael Thomas, the Indian from Prince Edward Island, who was also the winner last year. His time was 28 min. 41 sec., which is twelve seconds faster than his work of a year ago.

ENGLAND GOING FOOTBALL CRAZY

Some Details on the Tremendous Hold the Game Has on the People of the Old Country

Just as baseball, the national game of America, is drawing to a finish, association football, the national game of England, enters its crazy stages. Within a few weeks it will be in full hot and throughout the length and breadth of John Bull's island, in every hot and field, in every nook and corner, in every home and school, boys and girls, men and women, in a number closely approaching the total population of the country, will be football mad, baseball fever is a mild and harmless disease compared with the football fever of the British Isles. Glances at a few figures and you will see that there are more than 15,000 regular constituted football clubs playing a schedule of games throughout the season. There are 500 recognized important leagues, some of them embracing 20, 30, or not regulated by the football association—the largest governing body in the game—has on its rolls are more than 750,000 members. It registers and sanctions 20,000 referees, and has more or less authoritative control over every big game played in the country.

These astounding figures do not include the thousands of clubs and the hundreds of thousands of players in schools throughout England. They are not registered by the football association, but have a separate organization of their own, much like the bodies that govern public school athletics in the United States.

Cricket Out of the Running. There are still to be found enthusiasts who claim that cricket is the national game of England. As a popular sport, cricket cannot hold a candle to its more healthy rival. Thousands shirk themselves, however, and spectators lose their eyesight, and professional footballers, and the perceptive tables, of the nine deaths in a day on the field, for the sake of the champagne of football, for every one that dies the still life of cricket.

Professional football in England is many points of resemblance to professional baseball in the United States. There are also, however, many points of difference. Professional football in the United States is open and frankly run for the purpose of making money for the players and the clubs. The big leagues are their own masters and acknowledge no authority or higher governing body. Whatever may be the train inside situation in professional football in the United States, the big leagues are run in the interests of pure sportsmanship. It is usually—except in the case of the big secret salaries paid to players, and the well-known fallings of honor and integrity with this view of the situation, but the fact remains that by the articles of their incorporation, by their rules and regulations, and by their public posture—the clubs force every player to make money out of the game.

These illegal salaries were concealed by making false returns to the football association. The books were kept regular by a system of cheating and the salaries were paid in a large part of the money taken in by the clubs. This was done, and went to the limit for the payment of a few salaries. A year ago the football association attempted to ease its conscience a little. It could not have been ignorant of matters known to everybody, the concealed salaries, for the rule fixing a maximum salary was dropped and the matter left to the individual clubs. Now many of the clubs provide that players shall receive in addition to their regular salaries, bonuses for winning games, for winning championships, and for various other reasons, but they have by no means done away with the secret salaries. LEGISLATIVE CHAMBER TO BE READY FOR NEXT SESSION

Workmen Are Concentrating Efforts in Attempt to Complete Legislative Hall in New Parliament Buildings in Time for Next Meeting of the House

LEGISLATIVE.

Concentrating its energies upon the south wing of the new parliament building in which the forthcoming session of the legislature is to be held, the department of public works is exerting every effort to complete the chamber in time for the opening day of the session, and though the workmen may be employed in the chamber, in the four galleries, inclusive of the section reserved for the press, three hundred persons may conveniently find seating accommodation.

Practically the whole of the south wing will be ready for occupancy. The exterior work is finished some weeks ago, and carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, and other workmen to the tune of some two hundred in all, are now employed from the basement of the building to the members' cafe and kitchen on the fourth floor, running the work through to completion. Temporary wooden stairways have been built to do duty in place of the marble stairways on steel frames which were to have been erected in August last, but which, owing to the non-arrival of material from the east, cannot now be constructed until the new year.

Access to the legislative chamber, and the south wing as a whole, will throughout the session be obtained by means of a long wooden tunnel, brilliantly lighted, which will be built from the north entrance through the unoccupied central portion of the edifice. The chamber has seventy-two galleries, which will thus be isolated from the main body of the building, in which the construction gangs will be able to continue their labors.

An effort is being made to complete the seventh street steel bridge in time for the opening of the session. Steel for the structure was shipped some time ago, but has not been delivered as yet, and it has become problematical whether the seventh street entrance can be available or not before the opening of the house. Eventually the main entrance to the parliament buildings will be by way of a massive steel bridge which will span Saskatchewan avenue on Eighth street.

The large executive chamber which is to be occupied by the members of the assembly during the coming session presents a marked contrast to the bare-like, ill-ventilated, in-commodious room in which the lawmakers of the province have been wont to labor in the past.

The architecture is dignified, and not too ornate, while it is admirably designed for the purpose of a deliberative hall. The size of the main floor is 52 feet square, while at the elevation of the galleries the chamber is 85 feet square. Twelve stately Ionic columns support the vaulted roof, which rises to a height of 40 feet from the floor of the legislature. Ornamentation in the form of laurel leaves adorns the upper portion of the columns. The walls have a base of "Sylvan Green" marble—the first that has ever been used in the Dominion. Between the columns simple square is left for the representation of historic scenes, while the lunettes formed between the cornice and the barrel ceiling, with the deep, plaster panels, provide space for two large pictures, each 50 feet by 12 feet.

In the adorning of the walls of the chamber will be the work for the master artist, which Alberta has yet to produce.

The speaker's chair will be situated on a dais at the south end of the chamber, and behind this a recess will contain two small columns in front. In the large visitors galleries on the east and west, the benches are placed in four tiers, and every visitor will be provided with a view of the floor of the house. The speakers gallery is at the north end, and the press gallery immediately over the large clock above the speaker's chair. By night, the legislature will be illuminated by a thousand incandescent lamps, several hundreds of which are hidden behind the cornices of the building, while the panes of the ceiling contain large numbers. In the ceiling also are two windows, of art or "cathedral" glass, and while these will give a subdued light by day, by night they will be illuminated from behind incandescent lamps. When the full lighting system is complete, a soft, subdued light may be obtained from the hidden lamps and the beauties of the art glass panes in the ceiling may then be seen to full advantage.

As to the acoustic properties of the chamber, these, so far as the best exposed here—shows, are entirely satisfactory. Every member whose speech is heard from all quarters of the house.

Several commodious ante-rooms are situated on the same floor as the legislative hall proper. On the east, and accessible from either end of the chamber, are the two rooms which are to be under the control of the speaker. A large room, 30 by 18 feet, which will be set apart for the general use of the members during the session, and a small room for the speaker's private use. These rooms are paneled in mahogany. On the west end is the room of the clerk of the house, in dimensions 18 by 30 feet. Strong rooms constructed until the new year.

Access to the legislative chamber, and the south wing as a whole, will throughout the session be obtained by means of a long wooden tunnel, brilliantly lighted, which will be built from the north entrance through the unoccupied central portion of the edifice. The chamber has seventy-two galleries, which will thus be isolated from the main body of the building, in which the construction gangs will be able to continue their labors.

An effort is being made to complete the seventh street steel bridge in time for the opening of the session. Steel for the structure was shipped some time ago, but has not been delivered as yet, and it has become problematical whether the seventh street entrance can be available or not before the opening of the house. Eventually the main entrance to the parliament buildings will be by way of a massive steel bridge which will span Saskatchewan avenue on Eighth street.

The large executive chamber which is to be occupied by the members of the assembly during the coming session presents a marked contrast to the bare-like, ill-ventilated, in-commodious room in which the lawmakers of the province have been wont to labor in the past.

The architecture is dignified, and not too ornate, while it is admirably designed for the purpose of a deliberative hall. The size of the main floor is 52 feet square, while at the elevation of the galleries the chamber is 85 feet square. Twelve stately Ionic columns support the vaulted roof, which rises to a height of 40 feet from the floor of the legislature. Ornamentation in the form of laurel leaves adorns the upper portion of the columns. The walls have a base of "Sylvan Green" marble—the first that has ever been used in the Dominion. Between the columns simple square is left for the representation of historic scenes, while the lunettes formed between the cornice and the barrel ceiling, with the deep, plaster panels, provide space for two large pictures, each 50 feet by 12 feet.

In the adorning of the walls of the chamber will be the work for the master artist, which Alberta has yet to produce.

The speaker's chair will be situated on a dais at the south end of the chamber, and behind this a recess will contain two small columns in front. In the large visitors galleries on the east and west, the benches are placed in four tiers, and every visitor will be provided

The legislative library has been practically complete for some weeks past.
